

Online & Cyber Security Statement

Recently, there has been a rise in the number of investments and other forms of financial scam emails, websites, and dubious social media profiles. We have been made aware that a lot of people have been contacted by fraudsters through email representing to be someone else. Please beware of such illegal activities by taking full necessary and precautionary measures to boost your personal safety and security digitally – particularly with and on social media platforms.

Anyone who invests their money into such websites is likely to become a victim of investment fraud. Therefore, we would strongly encourage you to report such experiences to the FCA and Action Fraud using the links mentioned below:
